

ERIK WILBERS

Biographical Note

Erik WILBERS, a national of The Netherlands (1958), is the Acting Director and the Head of the Domain Name Dispute Resolution Section of the WIPO Arbitration and Mediation Center, World Intellectual Property Organization, Geneva.

Following studies in The United States and The Netherlands, Mr. Wilbers was a research fellow at the Max Planck Institute for Intellectual Property Law in Munich. Before joining WIPO in 1996, he practiced with the law firm of Clifford Chance in Amsterdam, was on the legal staff of the Iran-United States Claims Tribunal in The Hague, and headed a division of the Compensation Commission of the United Nations Security Council.

His present area of work includes the management of Internet domain name cases filed with the WIPO Center. Mr. Wilbers is also involved in the development of on-line case systems and other methods aimed at increasing the efficiency of dispute resolution. He has written and spoken on a variety of legal subjects, including arbitration and intellectual property.