PROPOSAL FOR CHANGES TO CLASSES 5, 29 AND 30

Document prepared by the International Bureau

1. The Annex to this document contains a proposal for amendments and other changes to Classes 5, 29 and 30 of the Nice Classification, submitted by Norway in response to WIPO Circular NCL 97, dated January 30, 2009. This proposal is a revised version of the one submitted to the Preparatory Working Group at its twenty-sixth session, held in Geneva from November 26 to 30, 2007.

2. The Preparatory Working Group is invited to consider the above-mentioned proposal and to express its views thereon.

Dear Mr Höpperger, Enclosed you'll find a revised proposal by the Norwegian Industrial Property Office to the 28 th Meeting of the Preparatory Working Group of the Nice Union.				▶ SERVICE CENTRE +47 22 38 73 33
A REVISED PROPOSAL				▶ FAX +47 22 38 73 01
1. This document is a revised version of a proposal the Norwegian Industrial Property Office submitted to WIPO June 17, 2005 and which was presented at the 26th Preparatory Working Group of the Nice Union. No new topics are added in this revised proposal. However, we are withdrawing a previous proposal to change/merge classes 32 and 33. The two proposals we have regard the classes 5, 29 and 30.				▶ E-MAIL mail@patentstyret.no
THE PROPOSALS				▶ INTERNET www.patentstyret.no
2. We would like to draw your attention to areas where we think the Nice Classification System would benefit from some changes and be more user-friendly. Below are our two main proposals: (1) Merging the classes 29 and 30, and (2) Transfer some goods from class 5 into a new food class. We have to the best of our knowledge tried to identify the consequences of these proposals.				▶ BANK ACCOUNT 8276 01 00192
BACKGROUND FOR THE PROPOSALS				▶ ORG. No. 971526157 MVA
3. The Nice Classification Convention as it stands today, must be seen as a result of how society and commercial market worked in 1957. The Nice Classification Convention has since then been amended and modified to some degree, but the main structure of it remains as it was entered into force in June 1957.
4. As the Nice Classification Convention has become older, it has also become more obvious that the separations between certain classes need to be evaluated.

It has become more and more clear to us that some of the differences between certain classes in the Nice Classification Convention have become old-fashioned and not well suited to solve the classification needs of a modern world. Some of the classes seem to be without reason as the manner of trade and production has become a business for multinational companies.

5. In today's world, the society and way of business are quite different, and some of the listings and divisions in classes do not quite fit anymore. Where there used to be specialized stores for just a few kinds of goods, we see today more and more department stores, where you can find almost any kinds of goods represented. Where one trader used to offer only one kind of goods or services, it is more likely today that one trader will offer a wide range of different goods and/or services.

6. Some of the differences between the classes create a great deal of confusion, both for the applicants, their agents and the patent offices that use the Nice Classification Convention. An applicant, who does not know anything about the Nice Classification Convention, has difficulties understanding our reasons for classifying for example some of his foodstuffs in one class, and some in another class. This is sometimes hard to understand even for members of the Committee of Experts of the Nice Union. We have seen numerous examples of the difficulties that can arise in the work of the Preparatory Working Group and the Committee of Experts of the Nice Union, when trying to determine where certain foodstuffs should be classified.

The merging of the classes 29 and 30

7. The classes 29 and 30 are split on the basis of biological origin of the goods in those classes. Class 29 consists basically of goods with an animal origin while class 30 consists basically of goods of plant origin. We would like to change the focus from the material as the classification criteria and rather see the purpose as prepared foodstuffs for human beings as the main criteria for classifying the goods. We would therefore like to propose that the classes 29 and 30 merge into one class. The heading of this merged class can be as follows:

Foodstuffs prepared for consumption or conservation

The transfer of some goods from class 5 into one new class

8. We would like to keep class 5 as containing mainly healing preparations. This means that we would need to transfer some food from class 5 to a new class. We would also need to change the wording for some of the goods, to make it clearer what kind of goods it is, and consequently, where it should be classified. See Annex 1 regarding all the changes and proposals.

The consequences of our proposal

9. We would like to point out that the Nice Classification Convention is merely an administrative tool aiming (among other things) to make it easier to organize and administer trademark applications and registrations in a trademark database. In this relation, one can clearly see that the class number should have no influence on whether two different types of goods are similar or not.

10. When it comes to the specific examination of whether two trademarks are Confusingly similar, it is never sufficient to find that the trademarks are registered in the same class. When determining likelihood of confusion or not between two or more trademarks, one should always consult the specific list of goods and services of the two trademarks and not only to the number of the class where the goods are classified.

11. Trademarks applied or registered for butter or pasta do not become more or less likely to cause confusion whether the goods in question are classified in separate classes or in the same class.

We are looking forward to have a fruitful discussion about this and other proposals at our next meeting in November.

Yours Sincerely

New Indications
		Starch for dietetic puposes
		Algae for human consumption, Weeds for human consumption
		Dietetic food substances
New Class headings and explanatory notes
		New Class heading: Foodstuffs prepared for consumption or conservation.
		New Explanatory note: This class includes mainly foodstuffs for human beeing prepared for consumption or conservation. This Class includes, in particular: - baby food - cereals prepared for human consumption (for example, oat flakes and those made of other cereals). - non-medicinal or non-medicated dietetic substances. This Class does not include, in particular: - salt for preserving other than for foodstuffs (Cl. 1); - medicinal herbs (Cl. 5); - medicinal or medicated foodstuffs substances (Cl. 5); - fertilised eggs for hatching (Cl. 31); - foodstuffs for animals (Cl. 31); - live animals (Cl. 31) - raw cereals (Cl. 31);
Deletions
050036	05	Bouillons for bacteriological cultures, Bacteriological cultures (Bouillons for -), Bacteriological cultures (Media for -), Media for bacteriological cultures, Mediums (Bacteriological culture -)	Delete.	Covered by 050212 Nutritive substances for micro organisms.
050054	05	Lead water, Goulard water	Delete.	Historically used to treat lepra. Modern medicine have more efficient treatment for this illness. Lead water can give severe illness itself, clean water have almost the same effect.
050077	05	Chemico-pharmaceutical preparations	Delete	Too broad and unspecific
050085	05	Fumigating sticks, Fumigating pastilles, Pastilles (Fumigating -), Sticks (Fumigating -)	Delete.	Text doesn't say anything about the use of the fumigating goods. See also 050337 "Fumigating preparations for medical use." We don't need both indications

050094	05	Solutions for contact lenses, Contact lenses (Solutions for use with -)	Delete.	Not necessary as it is covered by 050365 "Contact lens cleaning preparations)
050105	05	Croton bark	Delete.	From "TheFreeDictionary.com": "A brownish-yellow, foul-smelling oil obtained from the seeds of a tropical Asian shrub or small tree (Croton tiglium) and formerly used as a drastic purgative and counterirritant. Its use was discontinued because of its toxicity."
050129	05	Mineral water for medical purposes, Waters (Mineral -) for medical purposes	Delete. Subsidiary, change to: Medicinal mineral water, Mineral water (Medicinal -)	Covered by 050307 Medicated beverages. (Proposed change)
050179	05	Tincture of iodine	Delete	Covered by 050208 Tinctures for medical purposes
050184	05	Jujube [medicated]	Delete.	Can't find any indication that jujube is used in pharmacy or medicine. If this is medicated candy, it is covered by the indication 050057 "Medicated candy"
050211	05	Mercurial ointments	Delete.	Not commonly used in medicine anymore. Causes more diseases than it cures
050247	05	Remedies for foot perspiration, Foot perspiration (Remedies for -)	Delete.	Not necessary, covered by 050285 "Remedies for perspiration"
050249	05	Poisons	Delete.	Too broad and unspecific
050303	05	Stick liquorice for pharmaceutical purposes	Delete.	Covered by 050185 "Liquorice for pharmaceutical purposes"
050305	05	Biological preparations for medical purposes	Delete	Too broad and unspecific
050310	05	Candy for medical purposes	Delete.	Not necessary, covered by 050057 Candy, medicated.
050321	05	By-products of the processing of cereals [for medical purposes]	Delete	Too broad and unspecific. Additionally, the medical purpose should be mentioned in the actual text, not (only) in an explanation. The text doesn't say what this is, just how it is manufactured.
050323	05	Chemical preparations for pharmaceutical purposes	Delete	Too broad and unspecific
050361	05	Biological preparations for veterinary purposes	Delete	Too broad and unspecific
050362	05	Chemical preparations for medical purposes	Delete	Too broad and unspecific
050363	05	Chemical preparations for veterinary purposes	Delete	Too broad and unspecific

050364	05	Chemical reagents for medical or veterinary purposes, Reagents (Chemical -) for medical or veterinary purposes	Delete	Too broad and unspecific
050375	05	Trace elements (Preparations of -) for human and animal use	Delete	Trace elements can be used for both nutritional and medical purposes. "Trace elements" is a very unspecific term
050382	05	Mineral food-supplements	Delete	Not necessarily for medical purposes only.
050384	05	Nutritional additives for medical purposes	Delete	It seems that this indication tries to fulfil the criteria in both 5, 29 and 30 at the same time. This is more confusing than clarifying.
Deletions from class headings and explanatory notes.
	29	Meat, fish, poultry and game; meat extracts; preserved, dried and cooked fruits and vegetables; jellies, jams, compotes; eggs, milk and milk products; edible oils and fats.	Delete
	29	Class 29 includes mainly foodstuffs of animal origin as well as vegetables and other horticultural comestible products which are prepared for consumption or conservation. This Class includes, in particular: - milk beverages (milk predominating). This Class does not include, in particular: - certain foodstuffs of plant origin (consult the Alphabetical List of Goods); - baby food (Cl. 5); - dietetic substances adapted for medical use (Cl. 5); - salad dressings (Cl. 30); - fertilised eggs for hatching (Cl. 31); - foodstuffs for animals (Cl. 31); - live animals (Cl. 31).
