

WIPO Dialogue with the Scientific Community and Innovators

Sign up for our free discourse between representatives of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) and the local scientific community.

10, March, 2016
Aristotle
University of Thessaloniki
Conference
Centre

Are you interested in learning how the patent system benefits the scientific community, as well as the individual innovator? Would you like to learn how to use the patent system to increase partnerships? Then sign up to attend the WIPO Dialogue with the Scientific Community and Innovators, to be held in Thessalonica, Greece, March 10, 2016

3rd September
st.
Panepistimioupoli
546 36
Thessaloniki

In this event, senior WIPO representatives will lead an interactive program of discussions that are sure to be of interest to anyone involved in the scientific community and innovation.

The event will provide information on the patent system in relation to the scientific community including success stories and challenges, as well as the importance of patent information to public research institutions and universities, with an eye towards partnerships and innovation. There will be plenty of opportunity for debate and discussion, as well as interaction with Hellenic Industrial Property Organisation (OBI), euraxess and others. A full program is available.

In order to register your interest, please fill out the registration form available here: <http://www.obi.gr/obi/?tabid=60&nclid=21&nocode=504>

Space at the seminar is strictly limited so we encourage early registration to avoid disappointment.

