PUBLICATIONOFINTER NATIONALAPPLICATION S INMULTIPLELANGUAGE S

Document prepared by the International Bureau

SUMMARY

1. Thisdocumentcontainsfurtherrevised proposals for amendment of the Regulations under the PC T¹ to provide for the publication of international applications in multiple languages. Applicants would have the option of submitting translations, into languages other than the usual language of publication, for publication by the International Bureau. This possibility would be useful for applicants wishing to ensure the "prior arteffect" of their applications and/or to establish abasis for "provisional protection" indesignated States whose national laws provide that such effector protection is dependent on publication of a translation.

- 2. Earlierproposals, discussed at the sixthsession of the Working Group, have been revised taking into account the discussions, and the agreement reached, at that session and the comments received on preliminary draft documents made availables ince then. The main differences in comparison with the proposals considered at the sixthsession concern the following: (i) the additional languages in which the applicant may request international publication to take place; and (ii) the furnishing of translations of changes (amendments, rectifications of obvious errors) and of indications in relation to deposite disological material.
- 3. Thisdocumentalsocontainsotherpr oposedlanguage -relatedamendmentsofthe Regulationswhicharenotdirectlyrelatedtotheproposedamendmentsconcerning international publication in multiple languages but which appear to be necessary even if the latter do not proceed.

The discussions are outlined indocument PCT/R/WG/6/12, paragraphs 138to143, reproduced in the following paragraphs:

- "138. DiscussionswerebasedondocumentPCT/R/WG/6/8.
 - "139. The Working Group invited the Secretariattop reparerevised proposals, for consideration at its next session, taking into account the comments and suggestions set out in the following paragraphs.

- "140. Onedelegationconfirmedthattheproposalaspresentlydraftedwouldachieve itspr imaryobjectiveofestablishingpriorarteffectoftheinternationalapplication concernedunderitsnationallaw.Inviewofthisconfirmation,theproposalwas supportedbytwootherdelegations.Oneofthoseemphasized,however,theneedto discussa possiblerevisionofArticle 64(4)atsomestageinthefuture.
- "141. Onedelegationandonerepresentativeofusers, whilewelcomingtheproposals inrelationtothequestionofpriorarteffect, stated that the effects of international publication in an additional language other than those relating to priorarteffect ought to be further examined and keptin mind as further proposals were developed. Such other effects included, for example, the affording of "provisional protection" to published applications (see Article 29).
- "142. Onerepresentativeofuserssuggestedthatinternationalpublicationinadditional languagesshouldnotberestrictedtolanguagesofpublicationunderthePCT,thatthere shouldbealongertimelimitforsubmittingtranslat ionsforpublication,thatadditional languageversionsshouldbepublishedonlyinelectronicformasdocuments downloadablefromtheInternet,andthatthefeeforpublicationshouldvarydepending ontheparticularelectronicformatinwhichatranslati onwasprovided.
- "143. Onerepresentativeofusers, whilenotopposed to the proposals perse, expressed concern that publication of international applications in multiple languages was out of line with one of the basical most of the Treaty, namely, to give effect under multiple national laws to an international application filed in a single language. The representative suggested that the additional costs involved would determost applicants from using the proposed system, and that the underlying is sue concerning the prior art effect of published international applications should be dealt within the context of the consideration by WIPO's Standing Committee on the Law of Patents of a proposed Substantive Patent Law Treaty."
- 8. The Annextothe present document contains further revised proposals, taking account of the suggestions made by delegations and representatives of users at the six these sion (see document PCT/R/WG/6/12, paragraphs 138 to 143, reproduced in paragraph 7, above) and also of comments received on preliminary drafts for these venths ession of the Working Group which were made available for comment on the WIPO website as PCT/R/WG/7P aper No.3 and Paper No.3 Rev. The main eatures of the revised proposals are outlined in the following paragraphs.

INTERNATIONALPUBLICATIONINMULTIPLELANGUAGES

9. International publication and communication to designated Offices of the international application in methan one language would be beneficial for the establishment or protection of certain rights of the applicant under the national law of designated States. This will be the case, first, indesignated States where the prior arteffect of an international application is, in accordance with Article 64(4), dependent on the international publication of the international application in alanguage accepted by the Office of the designated State concerned. Second, there are designated States where provisional protection of an international application is, in accordance with Article 29, dependent on the publication or availability of the international application in a language in which publications under the national law of the designated State concerned are effect ed.

- 13. Forthepurposesofinternationalpublicationinanadditionallangua ge,theapplicant wouldhavetopayaspecialfee. The translationinto an additionallanguage would have to contain the following elements (unless such element had already been furnished in that language):
- (i) theinternational application itself (that is, the description, including the title of the invention, where applicable, as established by the International Searching Authority under Rule 37; the claim or claims; any text matter in the drawings; and the abstract, where applicable, as established by the International Searching Authority under Rule 38);

- (iv) any indications in relation to deposite dbiological material referred to in Rule 13bis. 4 furnished separately from the description.
- 14. International publication in the additional language would not take place where the applicant did not, within the applicable time limit, pay the special fee for publication or furnish the required translations.
- 15. Asindicatedabove,ingener al,thetimelimitforrequestingpublicationintheadditional language,forthepaymentofthespecialfeeforpublication,andforthefurnishingofthe requiredtranslationswouldbe17monthsfromtheprioritydate.Itistobenoted,however, thatt hetimelimitformakingamendmentsunderArticle19(andforfilingthestatement underArticle19(1))may,incertaincircumstances,underRule 46.1,expireafterthe expirationofthat17 -monthtimelimit,andevenafterinternationalpublicationofthe internationalapplicationconcerned.Furthermore,wheretheInternationalSearching Authorityhasestablishedthetitleand/ortheabstractunderRules37and38,respectively,the applicantmayneedfurthertimetotranslatethoseelementsintotheaddi tionallanguage.Itis
