

Curriculum Vitae

Mr. Daeshik JEH is Director General of the Information Policy Bureau and CIO of the Korean Intellectual Property Office (KIPO). Prior to this post, he was Director General for the Information and Communications Examination Bureau from September 2007 to August 2009.

Mr. JEH began his career at KIPO in May 1989. At important and various stages, he worked at the Electric Examination Division, Industrial Property Tribunal, Patent Examination Policy Division.

Mr. JEH received a bachelor's degree in Electrical Engineering from the Bu-san National University and a master's degree in Information Science from the State University of New York, Albany in the U.S.A.